

STATEMENT: MICHAEL FAULKENDER ON THE TAX RELIEF FOR AMERICAN FAMILIES AND WORKERS ACT OF 2024

January 22, 2024

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Today, the America First Policy Institute (AFPI) released the following statement from Michael Faulkender, AFPI's Chief Economist, regarding the Tax Relief for American Families and Workers Act of 2024.

"This legislation extends important elements of the Trump Administration's Tax Cuts and Jobs Act to encourage further investment in American workers. Paid for by ending the abuse of some pandemic-era spending, this common-sense bill supports small businesses, American competitiveness, and hard-working families while maintaining work requirements. Congress should make the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act permanent, and this bill's extension of key components is an important step forward to keeping taxes low during a time when Americans are struggling with the massive price increases of the last three years."

###

About AFPI:

AFPI is a 501(C)(3) non-profit, non-partisan research institute focused on advancing policies that put the American people first. AFPI is led by senior leaders from the Trump Administration: Linda McMahon, Chair of the Board and former Administrator of the Small Business Administration; Larry Kudlow, Vice Chair, former Director of the National Economic Council; and Brooke Rollins, President and CEO and former Director of the Domestic Policy Council and Chief White House Strategist. Since its inception in 2021, the AFPI team proudly includes nine former Cabinet-level officials, three former Governors, and nearly 50 former Senior White House and Administration officials. More information about AFPI and its 21 research centers can be found at www.americafirstpolicy.com.

